The Systemic Gap: Why Corporate Intervention is Critical

Nigeria's healthcare infrastructure is under immense strain, creating a productivity and welfare crisis that affects the broader economy.

Capacity Deficit: Only 5 hospital beds per 10,000 people and 1 doctor per 10,000 patients.

Financial Barrier: 97% of the population lacks health insurance, forcing reliance on out-of-pocket payments or total exclusion from care

The Corporate Role: By bridging this gap, partners do not just "donate"; they actively reduce the disease burden, improve community resilience, and align with UN SDG 3 (Good Health & Well-being).
